Speak out at the Longview hearing on September 17 to stop dangerous coal export.

It’s our chance to make a difference.

“Over a dozen loud and dirty coal trains will pass through Longview every day. There’s only one way to stop them: Join me and hundreds of other concerned residents and make your voice heard. Speak up for our health and environment and speak out against coal trains.”

— Dr. Lee Ann Gekas, Family Physician, Longview

Join Dr. Gekas in stopping Big Coal from coming to Longview.
Big Coal cares about profits over our communities. Millennium’s plan to send 16 coal trains through Longview everyday would spread toxic coal dust and diesel emissions, clog our railroads, ports, and roadways, risk our families’ health, and further stoke the climate crisis.

We can do better. We can Power Past Coal. Families, health care providers, business owners, tribal leaders, faith communities, elected officials and municipalities across our region are voicing concerns about the health and safety risks of Longview’s coal export proposal.

COAL IS THE DIRTIEST FOSSIL FUEL, BY FAR. Southwest Washington Communities are banding together to end our coal addiction.
