CONGRESS: DON’T GO HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS WHILE LEAVING AMERICAN WORKERS OUT IN THE COLD

Extend Clean Energy Incentives Now and Protect More Than 200,000 Jobs

The American people are counting on Congress to put in the hard work to protect our economy, our communities, and our families—not go on vacation when jobs are on the line. Congress, don’t kick up your feet near the fireplace for the holidays without acting to help American workers first. Extending clean energy incentives will help build on a decade’s worth of strong job growth in the solar and wind energy sectors, which now employ more than 200,000 workers across all 50 states.
