Essential Eligibility Criteria: Hut-to-Hut, Lodge & Supported Trekking

Sierra Club developed these Essential Eligibility Criteria (EEC) to help trip applicants better understand the essential criteria necessary to participate in a Sierra Club trip. Please read carefully! These EEC are not intended to be exclusionary, but to identify the basic requirements of participation focused on safety and risk management considerations, and consistent with Sierra Club's mission. Importantly, these EEC are intended to be helpful and constructive for all participants considering attending Sierra Club trips. However, these EEC are only intended to give an overall picture of EEC for trip activities and do not encompass every criteria or function of the various activities you may encounter on a given trip. Each participant commits on their Participant Responsibilities and Information Form that they have read and can meet the EEC for their particular trip.

General EEC

- Have the capacity to travel through and navigate variations in a given trip's weather, temperatures, terrain, and altitude and continue traveling, as appropriate, during adverse weather; wind, rain, heat, cold.
- Accept that the dynamic of a group requires coming together on a daily schedule, hiking at a consistent speed, taking regular breaks, etc.
- Take care of yourself: eat and drink appropriately, dress for the weather, maintain personal hygiene and necessary self-care, manage known medical conditions.
- Effectively notify and communicate with leaders or other participants in the event of personal distress, injury, illness, or the need for assistance while engaging in activities.
- Remain alert and focused for several hours at a time while traveling through the wilderness and other areas.
- Can pay attention and understand and follow directions when traveling independently or with the group, and stay with the group when necessary.
- Follow rules that the leaders establish for the safety and well-being of the group.
- Act in a manner consistent with Leave No Trace ethics. Participants must be able to follow leaders' directions regarding minimum impact guidelines. For more information, go to www.LNT.org.
- Work cooperatively as a member of a group and support a team approach despite potentially challenging circumstances. This includes treating others with courtesy and respect and requires flexibility and the ability to compromise on an interpersonal or group level.
- Recognize that group members may have different views on problem-solving. The leaders will make the final decisions, but your input is valued and welcome. Tolerance, compromise, and flexibility are required.
- As applicable on a given trip, live and travel in the remote US or international settings frequently 8 or more hours from medical facilities with potential delays or difficulties in communication, transportation, evacuation, and medical care.

HUT-TO-HUT

Physical Abilities

- Be comfortable staying in a rustic hut setting with primitive facilities (possibly no running water, pit toilets, no electricity).
- Be able to carry their gear (backpack or daypack with required gear, as specified for the particular trip) for each day's hike.
- Help spilt/carry wood and water into the hut as needed.
- Maneuver uneven and varying terrain in the hut, such as ladders and old stairs.

Safety and Risk Management

- Most huts are heated with a fireplace. Participants must take responsibility for managing fires 24 hours a day while at the hut.
- Follow sanitation guidelines to keep yourself and the group healthy and disease-free.
- Use caution while handling the ax in the wood area. Staying clear of the wood area if not chopping wood.

LODGE

Physical Abilities

- Have sufficient prior relevant hiking experience to qualify for the intended trip. Hikes of varying levels of difficulty may be available.
- Be able to carry personal gear (daypack, water, lunch, extra clothing, etc.) over the miles, elevation gain, and terrain of the planned day hikes. Also, have some extra capacity to carry additional items if another trip member should be injured.

- Be comfortable with staying in a rustic lodge with primitive facilities and shared rooms. Must be able to travel, with a daypack, on or off the trail, over uneven, variable terrain, possibly fording streams, depending on the specific trip. Ask the leader beforehand about variations, options to take a day off from hiking, alternate activities.

- Must have the reserve to travel further, faster, and longer than planned if unforeseen or adverse conditions (storm, fire, flood) require that.

Safety and Risk Management

- Follow leader recommendations about what gear to bring, a maximum weight of duffel bag, how much water you need to carry, etc.
- Warn other group members and leaders of hazards such as falling rocks, unstable terrain, fast water, aggressive animals, or injuries to other persons.

- Pay attention to yourself. Especially your feet. Don't hesitate to stop if you need to manage a blister, take a drink, add or remove clothing layers.

SUPPORTED TREKKING

Physical Abilities

- Lead a pack animal over varying terrain, including slick rock and sand, including flat, uphill, and downhill. Training is provided.
- Keep all personal gear in a duffel within allowable limits.

- Ability with or without assistance to help in the camp kitchen for cooking and cleanup.
- Carry a daypack containing water, lunch/snacks, and needed clothes.

Safety and Risk Management

- Ability to release the rope and move out of the way when in physical trouble handling a pack animal.

Participant Questionnaire

To enhance the leader's initial conversation with you, briefly describe your interest in this trip.

Have you been on a trip with Sierra Club Outings before?

Yes

No

Please list your most recent 3 trips (Sierra Club Outings, another group, or personal) related to the activities described in the trip brochure.

Include approximate dates, locations, distances, and trip-related activities.

3.

Please carefully review the trip brochure and the Essential Eligibility Criteria above and list your questions or concerns about the trip, including any potentially challenging conditions.

Many of our trips exceed the physical demands of regular exercise programs. For example, being capable of a long-distance bike-ride or run or swim on a single day will not necessarily prepare a participant for a long-distance, multi-day backpack with variable elevation changes over uneven terrain.

Describe your general physical condition and regular activities or exercise program.

Please review the trip brochure, including the Trip Difficulty section, and the Essential Eligibility Criteria above and describe what additional physical conditioning you will do to prepare for this trip.

Do you have any dietary restrictions or requirements? Please be specific. For example, vegetarian, vegan, sugar or gluten intolerance, allergies, sensitivities, or other important considerations, including foods you do not eat.

Please list any outdoor interests, hobbies, or skills that you would be willing to share with the group. For example, birding, archaeology, geology, volunteer work, conservation, renewable energy, environmental issues, etc.

After reviewing the trip brochure, including the Equipment and Clothing section, please describe your equipment needed for this trip. If you do not have any equipment, please indicate this so the leader can discuss this requirement with you.
