Welcome to Sierra Club Outings!

After 16 months of canceled trips and postponed vacations, I’m thrilled to report that we’re back! I want to convey my deepest appreciation for you, our participants, who stuck with us and were unfailingly supportive of our safety protocols, and for our volunteer leaders, who worked tirelessly throughout a confusing and rapidly changing situation. In July 2021, we resumed a limited number of domestic trips and gradually increased to full capacity in September. International trips are still somewhat limited, but our hope is that by spring of 2022 we will be close to pre-pandemic levels. At the time of this writing, we have successfully run two international outings and 108 domestic trips without any COVID incidents. The fact that 96 percent of our 2021 participants were fully vaccinated contributed greatly to our safety profile, and we continue to strongly encourage anyone who wants to participate in these trips to get vaccinated. We have also implemented increased safety measures as your health remains our top priority. Learn about our safety procedures, policies, and more at sc.org/outings.

In this catalog you will find an abundance of activities, from hiking, backpacking, and water vacations in North America to active adventures and history tours around the world. Feedback from our 2021 participants underscores the vital role we play in connecting people to the outdoors. In addition to the trips listed here, we hope you will check out Inspiring Connections Outdoors, Local Outdoors, and Military Outdoors, which are a part of our larger movement to increase access to nature for all people. Learn more on page 32 or head to sierraclub.org/get-outside to view the full menu of ways to get outside with the Sierra Club.

In an effort to build a more diverse and inclusive program, we’re once again offering an expanded selection of trips specifically for audiences we want to draw in, including adults under 50, women, and LGBTQIA+ people. We also hope you’ll check out our trips for younger adults, which are heavily subsidized to make joining one of these experiences easier than ever. Also, travelers ages 18 to 35 are eligible for a $300 scholarship to participate in any of this year’s all-ages trips. For more on this, head to page 23 or visit us at sc.org/outings.

Lastly, I hope you will check out the profiles in this catalog of the people who make the Sierra Club such a powerful movement to protect the planet. In this time of rapid change and uncertainty, we need the outdoors and one another more than ever.

Adventures with a Cause: Our Commitment to the Planet

We’re part of the country’s oldest and largest grassroots environmental organization, and we’re serious about running our program responsibly. Here’s how we do it:

We minimize our on-trip impact.
Our trips revolve around low-impact activities such as hiking and kayaking, and we follow Leave No Trace principles (see p. 6). We also try to use group transportation where possible.

We contribute 25,000 volunteer hours per year to land agencies.
Through our service trip program, we connect nearly 1,000 volunteers per year with understaffed land agencies such as the National Park Service and the U.S. Forest Service. We estimate that our trips contribute at least 25,000 hours of work per year. See p. 28 for service trips.

We create connections to the outdoors for all people.
Our Inspiring Connections Outdoors, Local Outdoors, and Military Outdoors programs create lifelong connections to nature to improve the social, physical, mental, and environmental health of our nation. For more on this, see p. 32.

Most important, we inspire activism.
We provide the tools. The rest is up to you. All our trips immerse you in the splendor of one of our planet’s wild places and inform you about local environmental challenges and what you can do to help. It was the impetus for our very first trip in 1901, and it’s still the reason we run our program today.

Alaska & Arctic Canada

Wildlife and Photography Cruise, Prince William Sound, Alaska. May 20–27. Explore and photograph the richness and wonder of spring in Alaska aboard our historic 12-passenger yacht, the Discovery. We’ll observe tens of thousands of migrating birds, marine mammals, and likely, bears fresh out of a long winter of hibernation as we cruise amid western Prince William Sound’s magical fjords. Comfortable lodging, delicious food, and hospitality await us on board. Leader: Elaine Grace. Price: $4,245. [22019A]

Backpacking the Brooks Range at the Moment of Spring, Arctic National Wildlife Refuge, Alaska. June 6–17. Join a backpack journey into America’s last true wilderness. As we hike from the plains into tundra-filled valleys, we’ll experience the sudden arrival of spring in the Arctic. With luck, we will encounter the Porcupine caribou herd on its calving-time migration. This once-in-a-lifetime experience may also include sightings of wolves, grizzly bears, and numerous bird and plant species. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Gary Keir. Price: $5,295. [22010A]

The High Valleys of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge, Alaska. June 14–25. Follow glacier-fed streams over the Continental Divide on this spectacular trek through the high valleys of the Brooks Range. With spring blossoming and 24 hours of daylight, we’ll have the chance to see caribou, grizzlies, wolves, Dall sheep, moose, and a multitude of migratory bird species. A midway cache of food and wine will lighten our packs as well as our spirits. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Jonas Wickham. Price: $4,995. [22011A]

Backpack America’s last true wilderness; raft among glaciers, grizzlies, and towering peaks; assist with service projects among stunning Arctic scenery; and other immense experiences.

Backpack Ratings
Trips are assigned difficulty ratings based on overall mileage, ascent, descent, campsite elevations, and other factors, with “1” denoting the least difficult of our trips and “5” the most difficult. These ratings are only a general guide. To more fully understand the trip difficulty, please consult the trip brochure and speak with the trip leader.

For detailed trip information or to register, call 415.977.5522 or visit our website.
we’ll head to the spruce forests of Caines Head on Resurrection Bay to assist Alaska State Parks with cabin maintenance and other projects. Our trip will end on the magnificent Kenai Fjords National Park boat tour among wildlife and glaciers. Leader: Rebecca Dameron. Price: $1,425. [22025A]

Explore Glacier Bay by Yacht and Kayak, Alaska. July 8–16. Enjoy watching calving glaciers, soaring eagles, spy-hopping whales, and playful sea otters from the comfort of a 65-foot yacht in Glacier Bay National Park. On our journey, we’ll kayak calm waters; hike seashores amid bear and moose tracks; see rugged snowcapped mountains and temperate rainforests as well as deep, sheltered fjords and tall, spiraling glaciers; and learn about the area’s amazing biodiversity from our expert naturalist. Leader: Margie Tomenko. Price: $6,145. [22012A]

Kenai Peninsula Adventure for Women, Alaska. July 15–22. Explore the stunning rivers, lakes, bays, and culture of Southcentral Alaska with like-minded, active women. We’ll raft the Kenai River, beachcomb, hike through boreal forests, admire wildflowers, watch glaciers calve, kayak Kachemak and Resurrection Bays, and visit an artists’ colony. We’ll also have daily wildlife-viewing opportunities and enjoy comfortable lodgings, hearty meals, and heavenly views. Leader: Cristina Breen. Price: $2,995. [22016A]

Wilderness Cruise on Alaska’s Inside Passage: Juneau to Wrangell. July 25–August 5. Explore the Inside Passage aboard a comfortable 12-person yacht. Accompanied by a naturalist, we’ll observe massive humpback whales, journey into narrow fjords, kayak among icebergs, and go ashore to view bears and other wildlife up close. Evenings will be spent anchored in remote coves in the Tongass National Forest, enjoying local foods and relaxing in the yacht’s library. Leader: Jennifer Moon. Price: $6,345. [22013A]

Volunteering in Denali National Park and Preserve, Alaska. July 31–August 6. Maintain trails in magnificent Denali National Park, home to North America’s tallest peak. Each day, we’ll hike to our work site and return to our campground for warm meals. On our free day, we’ll explore the park by bus, with chances to see moose, caribou, grizzlies, and awesome views of majestic Denali. We’ll return to Anchorage on the historic Alaska Railroad. Leader: John Kolman. Price: $1,275. [22026A]

Walk on the Wild Side: A Rare Base-Camp Journey through the Yukon Territory. August 1–12. There have been only three recorded expeditions to the Yukon’s remote Richardson and Barn Mountains: the first by a well-known Arctic explorer and the others by the leaders of this trip. Arriving by helicopter, we will base camp in two spectacular locations with abundant time to explore this magical and little-seen landscape filled with mountains, large green valleys, and abundant wildlife, including grizzly bears, wolves, caribou, and Dall sheep. Leader: Richard Gross. Price: $5,995. [22014A]

Glacier Wilderness Exploration, Wrangell–St. Elias National Park, Alaska. August 9–19. Unforgettable wilderness awaits on this leisurely backpack into the heart of the Wrangell Mountains. Anticipate spectacular vistas and scenic beauty as we travel through the largest concentration of glaciers on the North American continent, with a visit to Alaska’s largest mining ghost town. Our trip will include a van shuttle from Anchor-12-passenger yacht, the Discovery. We’ll cruise alongside walls of glaciers and incredible turquoise icebergs while watching humpbacks breach and orcas feed. Pilot your own kayak to shore, where you can walk on a glacier, gaze at shimmering waterfalls, or stroll through wildflowers. Comfortable lodging, delicious food, and hospitality await us on board. Leader: Nick Pilch. Price: $4,575. [22018A]

Floating through Time in Wood–Tikchik State Park, Alaska. August 10–20. Join us for an exceptional rafting adventure on one of Bristol Bay’s finest wilderness gems. Flowing from a tundra headwater lake through a broad, mountain-ringed valley, the rushing Tikchik River will lead us through remote and scenic backcountry with opportunities to fly-fish for salmon, char, and rainbow trout. We’ll also savor hearty meals, hike, and relax at lakeside base camps. Leader: Don Murch. Price: $4,795. [22020A]

Rafting among Glaciers and Grizzlies on the Tatshenshini and Alsek Rivers, Alaska and British Columbia. August 14–25. The Tatshenshini offers one of the world’s premier mountain rafting experiences. On our 140-mile adventure from the Yukon to near the Gulf of Alaska, we’ll float past majestic glaciers in Glacier Bay National Park amid the 20,000-foot St. Elias Mountains. We’ll also visit the Chilkat Bald Eagle Preserve, look for bears, hike the Walker Glacier, run rapids, and photograph wildlife in this vast wilderness. Leader: Cristina Breen. Price: $4,695. [22067A]

Prince William Sound Wilderness Cruise, Alaska. September 6–13. Explore the 1.9-million-acre Nellie Juan–College Fiord Wilderness Study Area aboard our historic 12-passenger yacht, the Discovery. We’ll cruise alongside walls of glaciers and incredible turquoise icebergs while watching humpbacks breach and orcas feed. Pilot your own kayak to shore, where you can walk on a glacier, gaze at shimmering waterfalls, or stroll through wildflowers. Comfortable lodging, delicious food, and hospitality await us on board. Leader: Nick Pilch. Price: $4,575. [22027A]

Alaska Fall Colors Sampler, Fairbanks. September 12–19. Join us for an action-packed week in the heart of Interior Alaska. From our guesthouse, we’ll sample a variety of activities, including museums and exhibits, day hikes in the surrounding mountains, an excursion along the oil pipeline to the Arctic Circle, a leisurely river-raft trip, wildlife spotting and photography, and basking in the warmth of Chena Hot Springs. Leader: Gary Aguiar. Price: $2,675. [22021A]

Environmental standards have changed since the days when William Colby romped through the wilds with 100 Sierra Club members and dozens of mules. Today, our leaders practice a set of guidelines developed by the Leave No Trace Center for Outdoor Ethics. Here are some examples of how we minimize backcountry impact.

- packing out all of our trash, including food
- keeping group size small and strictly following all land-use restrictions
- using efficient stoves instead of wood fires to cook
- walking on trails where they exist and fanning out where they don’t
- camping, cooking, and washing at least 200 feet from any water source
- camping and walking on durable surfaces
- packing all food in bear-proof containers where necessary or appropriate

Sun, Service, and Whales, Maui, Hawaii. January 22–29. Celebrate the New Year on a service project featuring Hawaiian culture, storytelling, tours by local guides, and dirt. For the 14th year, we’ll work in a remote west Maui valley, formerly a taro-growing site. We will also assist with beach cleanup projects and take a day for snorkeling and enjoying the graceful aerobics of wintering humpback whales. Leader: Barb Davis. Price: $2,025. [22402A]

Culture and Conservation on Maui, Hawaii. April 23–30. Join us in Maui’s Honokowai and Olowalu Valleys for a trip focused on Hawaiian culture and conservation. By day, we will work with local groups to remove invasive species and plant native species. At night, we will learn about Hawaiian culture with storytelling by local residents. We’ll also swim and snorkel with brightly colored fish on our day off and savor local food, with accommodations in a beachfront condo. This will be a trip to remember. Leader: Christopher Hall. Price: $1,795. [22080A]

Native Species Restoration and Natural Beauty on Molokai, Hawaii. March 6–13. Join us in a beautiful highland rainforest and coastal dune as we work to restore native plant habitat. We will savor ocean views and trade winds from our comfortable condos, with time to explore Molokai. We’ll also enjoy delicious meals with locally sourced food and learn about conservation efforts and culture from our hosts and native Hawaiians. Leader: Larry Miller. Price: $2,045. [22084A]

Bird Habitat Restoration and Conservation, Big Island, Hawaii. May 8–14. Join us for a week of service and exploration on Hawaii’s Big Island. We’ll support native birds by replanting mamane trees on Mauna Kea and assisting with projects at a nature conservancy. We’ll also have opportunities to hike, explore, relax, and savor excellent meals, cool breezes, and great conversation. Leader: Carl Martin. Price: $945. [22081A]

Wild Kauai, Garden Isle of Hawaii. May 28–June 3. Explore the wilds of Kauai, the oldest and arguably most beautiful of the Hawaiian islands. We will spend our days kayaking the world-famous Napali Coast, snorkeling and hiking along palm-lined bays and verdant canyons, and learning about Hawaiian culture. At day’s end we’ll return to comfortable lodging, including three nights in a modern resort and three nights in historic cottages along a black-sand beach. Leader: Patty McDonald. Price: $2,675. [22082A]

Work and Fun in Sunny St. John, Virgin Islands National Park, U.S. Virgin Islands. June 5–12. Assist with trail maintenance projects on idyllic St. John, the most unspoiled of the Virgin Islands. Working in Virgin Islands National Park, we will help clear vegetation on trails and uncover historic sites, with two full days free for hiking, snorkeling, or simply relaxing. We’ll camp at serene Cinnamon Bay and enjoy a half-day boat trip. Leader: Terry DeFraties. Price: $985. [22243A]

Go with the Flow: Highlights of the Big Island, Hawaii. July 16–23. Adventure awaits on our traverse of Hawaii’s magical Big Island. Dur-Shizumi Stewart likes to stay busy. At 76 years old, she enjoys spending time hiking and painting in her home state of Texas and nearby Arkansas. The two meditative activities bring her a sense of peace and joy since her husband passed away 20 years ago. “Hiking alone in solitude gives me a special feeling I can’t explain with words,” she says. “My artwork is a way to express my impressions of beauty in natural and manmade structures.” A self-described “serious hiker,” she was attracted to the Sierra Club’s approach to the outdoors, which emphasizes active adventure, natural wonders, and inspiring people rather than luxury restaurants, hotels, and other amenities. Since 2015, Shizumi has visited Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado; Sedona, Arizona; the Cascades in Oregon; the Stehekin Valley in Washington; and Grand Staircase–Escalante National Monument in Utah.

Each trip presents its own unique set of physical and mental demands, which, for Shizumi, is central to the appeal. “I’m happiest when I’m able to finish challenging trails,” she explains. But that doesn’t mean she takes preparation lightly. When she signed up for her most recent trip, to Big Bend National Park in Texas in 2020, Shizumi wanted to make sure she was in the best shape possible, so she discussed her questions and potential medical issues with her doctor. “I wish that our happiness was measured by the health of Earth and not by economic growth,” she states. Shizumi continues to exercise her love for the planet in her daily life by minimizing the waste she produces, collecting trash along the trail, and making more environmentally friendly choices, like driving a hybrid car.

While COVID-19 has thrown a wrench in Shizumi’s more ambitious travel plans, including a Sierra Club Outings trip to Nevada’s Ruby Mountains, she’s determined to get back in the swing of things as soon as she feels comfortable traveling again. In the meantime, she’s sticking to local hikes and plans to assist a Texas nature advocacy group with trail maintenance projects. Margaret reports that she is still in touch with Shizumi and probably will be for many years to come. “She sent me pictures from where she is now camping with a friend,” Margaret happily notes, “and they are picking up litter.”

Backpacking the Trans-Catalina Trail, Catalina Island, California. April 4–9. Catalina Island is a wonder of biodiversity 22 miles off the Southern California coast that belongs on everyone’s bucket list. We’ll backpack the Trans-Catalina Trail for five days, with an extra day to visit the island’s remote northern tip. Along the way, we’ll camp on the beach and high above the ocean, watch for Catalina Island fox and bison, and learn about endemic species and conservation efforts. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Doug Barrows. Price: $1,245. [22033A]

Backpacking California’s Wild and Remote Lost Coast. May 19–23. Backpack California’s legendary Lost Coast on this five-day adventure along all 25 miles of the King Range National Conservation Area. We’ll trek on rugged shoreline, across stream canyons, and on coastal bluffs as we make our way from Mattole to Black Sands Beach. Along the way, we’ll catch a glimpse of sea elephants, otters, and elk and spend evenings at beach campsites near creeks and waterfalls. (Rated: 3.) Leader: John Plander. Price: $795. [22127A]

Spring above the Canyon of the Tuolumne, Yosemite National Park. June 5–10. Our five-day backcountry hike will begin at Yosemite Creek in northern Yosemite and climb steadily to the upper lake basin above the Grand Canyon of the Tuolumne. Our journey will include two layover days, with opportunities to hike to the surrounding upper lakes, enjoy dramatic vistas, and soak in the solitude of the early season. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Jeannette Sivertsen. Price: $775. [22106A]
BEGINNER TRIP! Backpacking Basics in the Emigrant Wilderness. June 19–25. Discover the lakes, creeks, and falls of this stunning wilderness area north of Yosemite National Park while learning or refreshing basic backpacking skills. Our 25-mile loop will feature short hiking days at moderate elevations to allow beginners to ease into backpacking. There will also be plenty of time for cross-country exploration of mountain peaks and alpine lakes during day hikes and swims. (Rated: 2.) Leader: Andrew Johnson. Price: $595. [22107A]

Backpacking the Grand Canyon of the Tuolumne, Yosemite National Park. June 22–27. Follow the Grand Canyon of the Tuolumne River from Tuolumne Meadows to just above Hetch Hetchy Valley on this classic Yosemite trek. Along this stretch, the river drops like a staircase, with awesome cascades like Waterwheel Falls interspersed with delightful swimming holes. We’ll complete our journey with a final camp midway out of the canyon on a clearing with a spectacular view. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Mark Chang. Price: $845. [22108A]

Teen Backpacking in California’s High Emigrant Wilderness. July 9–16. Spend a week backpacking the Sierra high country with other 13- to 17-year-olds. Entering from Sonora Pass, we’ll follow a 42-mile route through Yosemite National Park, where we’ll swim in warm mountain lakes, climb a peak, fish, and learn new wilderness skills. We’ll enjoy delicious meals as we fuel for our on- and off-trail hike, with a full day off to hang out in this awesome mountain wilderness. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Cornelia Bellamacina. Price: $545. [22109A]

Backpacking the Eastern Sierra’s Hoover Wilderness. July 10–16. Explore Buckeye Meadow and the lakes and creeks of the less-visited eastern corner of the Hoover Wilderness on this point-to-point backpack journey. We’ll enjoy magnificent views from 10,000-foot Kirkland Pass, the highest point on our trip. Our small group will hike 35 miles over six days, all on trail, with time to hike, fish, or swim on one layover day and one short day. (Rated: 3.) Leader: David Melton. Price: $935. [22109A]

Lake Hopping into a World of Native Alpine Frogs: The Yosemite-Inyo Loop. July 10–17. Join us on a backpack adventure into a world of alpine frogs and the ecosystem that sustains them. Traveling ancient trails and camping near glacial lakes, we’ll learn why frogs were once considered water guardians by California’s native people and discover why frogs and humans are both at risk in a future of climate change. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Carol Reeb. Price: $1,045. [22110A]

Teen Backpacking Yosemite’s High Canyons and Lakes, Yosemite National Park. July 10–17. Spend a week backpacking Yosemite’s high country with other 13- to 17-year-olds. We’ll visit scenic lakes, travel through majestic Virginia and Matterhorn Canyons, and watch the alpenglow on Sawtooth Ridge below the Finger Peaks. Our 43-mile hike will feature three high passes, delicious teen-friendly meals, and several partial layover days for fishing, swimming, and exploring with new friends. (Rated: 3.) Leader: David Neumann. Price: $545. [22104A]

Remote Gardiner Basin High Country, Kings Canyon National Park. July 16–24. Secluded among the high peaks of Kings Canyon, Gardiner Basin remains untouched by trails and far from crowds. Our challenging route will take us over two 11,000-foot passes to reach this alpine sanctuary. We’ll explore the clear lakes and sparkling cascades of upper Gardiner Creek and exit via Kearsarge Pass. This trip is limited to six experienced and adventurous backpackers. (Rated: 5.) Leader: Jane Uptegrove. Price: $1,525. [22111A]
Humphreys High-Country Circuit, John Muir Wilderness. July 18–25. Explore the open, lake-studded land between towering Mt. Humphreys and the majestic Glacier Divide. We’ll travel off-trail over a high pass to a campsite at one of several pristine lakes along our route, then cross French Canyon to reach remote and scenic Merriam Lake. On two separate layover days, we can choose to hike, swim, fish, or relax in this austere and beautiful country. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Arian Pregenzer. Price: $945. [22112A]

Five-Day Tableland Adventure, Sequoia National Park. July 20–24. This quick backpack trip, much of it off-trail, to a remote backcountry granite plateau features alpine lakes and vistas above timberline. Anticipate strenuous hiking to camps at between 9,400 and 10,600 feet, with a planned layover offering free time to relax or explore. The last day will include the stunning Watchtower Trail. Our starting point is accessible by public transportation. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Tom Miller. Price: $785. [22113A]

Teen Backpacking the High Lakes of California’s John Muir Wilderness. July 23–31. Spend a week backpacking to pristine lakes and granite spires with other 13- to 17-year-old teens. After a short distance on the famous John Muir Trail, we will ascend Piute and French Canyons to reach beautiful Merriam and Royce Lakes. Two layover days will provide opportunities to fish, scramble up a peak, swim, and spend time with new friends. (Rated: 4.) Leader: David Neumann. Price: $545. [22114A]

High Sierra Hiking: Mammoth Crest to the Silver Divide, John Muir Wilderness. July 24–30. If you’ve always wanted to backpack in the High Sierra, then this is the trip for you. We will cover new ground on most days of this 30-mile hike among the spectacular lakes and panoramic views of the Silver Divide and neighboring red-hued peaks. Enjoy a layover day with a chance to relax, swim, climb a peak, or dayhike. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Renee Botta. Price: $865 [22115A]

BEGINNER TRIp! Beginners Eastern Sierra Jaunt, Little Lakes Valley. July 26–30. Are you new to backpacking or looking to enhance your wilderness skills? Join our adventure in scenic Little Lakes Valley. We’ll saunter alongside alpine lakes on gentle terrain for two days, then spend a layover day relaxing lakeside or venturing cross-country on steeper terrain with a day pack. This is an excellent opportunity to learn and develop your backcountry knowledge with other adventurers in an incredible high-country setting. (Rated: 2.) Leader: Jeannette Svivertsen. Price: $675. [22116A]

30s and 40s Journey Through Evolution: North Lake to South Lake, Kings Canyon National Park. July 29–August 7. Join other young adventurers on a 10-day, 56-mile classic High Sierra backpacking trip through Kings Canyon and John Muir’s “Range of Light.” As we hike the John Muir Trail over high passes to Humphreys, Evolution, and Dusy Basins, we will savor magnificent views, camp among granite peaks, and swim in spectacular alpine lakes. Our journey through this magical area is not to be missed. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Renee Rivera. Price: $795. [22116A]

Remote Lakes and Granite Canyons of the Emigrant Wilderness. July 31–August 6. Our six-day on- and off-trail journey to the remote lakes of the Emigrant Wilderness traverses a glacially sculpted landscape featuring broad granite expanses, rushing mountain streams, and deep canyons. Our itinerary will include a layover day to relax or explore the sweeping panoramas and pristine lakes, including a rare Sierra lake with a wide, sandy beach—each with its own unique beauty. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Kevin Loney. Price: $835. [22117A]

Emigrant Wilderness Inspiration. August 7–13. Join us as we explore the Emigrant Wilderness, a glaciated landscape of great scenic beauty just north of Yosemite. Our lake-filled backpack route will enter at Kennedy Meadows near Sonora Pass. We’ll make a loop around the southern part of the wilderness and wind back to our starting point via Granite Dome. Anticipate exploration, camaraderie, and wilderness inspiration. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Dave Simon. Price: $585. [22119A]

Backpacking Goddard Canyon and the LeConte Divide, John Muir Wilderness. August 11–20. Our west-side route will cross the LeConte Divide on-trail to reach Goddard Canyon. We’ll take one of two layover days here, with time to explore alpine cirques, relax among meadows and lakes, or scale a nearby peak. On our return, we’ll negotiate two cross-country passes, visiting alpine lakes with colorful names such as Devil’s Punchbowl and Six Shooter Lake. (Rated: 5.) Leader: Tom Miller. Price: $1,145. [22120A]

Backpacking Mineral King: A Celebration of Collective Environmentalism, Sequoia National Park. August 17–22. Join us in celebrating the 50th anniversary of Earthjustice as we backpack the site of its monumental first case, Mineral King, now part of Sequoia National Park after being saved from development as a massive ski resort. Our loop route will traverse high passes and deep valleys and past pristine alpine lakes, with a layover day to further explore or simply relax. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Richard Clowdus. Price: $725. [22121A]

Muir Pinnacles Traverse, John Muir Wilderness. August 19–27. The Muir Pinnacles are usually seen only from a distance and are rarely visited. Our adventurous eight-day trek will leave a picturesque section of the John Muir Trail in search of wilder beauty off-trail as we circumnavigate the Pinnacles. We will camp at secluded crystal lakes and endeavor to climb Gemini peak or Seven Gables on our way through unforgettable Seven Gables Basin. (Rated: 5.) Leader: Timothy Jung. Price: $1,075. [22123A]

Royce Lakes and Humphreys Basin, John Muir Wilderness. August 21–27. The remote and seldom-visited Royce Lakes lie nestled on the southwestern shoulder of the Eastern Sierra crest, just beyond lake-filled Humphreys Basin. Commanding views of Mt. Humphreys will accompany us as we venture on- and off-trail through the basin to Muriel, Desolation, and L Lakes. Along the way, we will enjoy two layover days to explore our spectacular surroundings or relax. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Nancy Mathison. Price: $775. [22122A]

Palisades Peaks and Passes, Kings Canyon National Park. August 22–29. Our group will enter the high country at Bishop Pass and finish 42 miles later over barren but spectacular Taboose Pass. In between, we’ll forge a challenging cross-country route over three high passes neighboring the Palisades. On layover days, we intend to climb 14,000-foot Mt. Sill and Split Mountain. Traveling high and light, the group is limited to six participants. (Rated: 5.) Leader: John Plander. Price: $1,385. [22123A]

Sierra High Route: On- and Off-Trail Adventure in the Ansel Adams Wilderness. September 4–10. Join this classic cross-country backpacking trek to sky-blue lakes, cascading waterfalls, panoramic passes, and the rugged shoulders of the iconic Minaret Range and Ritter Range. We’ll bask in the glorious late summer light on a traverse of rugged and airy passes immortalized in Ansel Adams’s photographs and swim, fish, relax, and watch the alpenglow paint the ridgelines from our lakeside campsites. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Rick Self. Price: $1,245. [22124A]

Women’s Eastern Sierra Adventure, Big Pine Lakes. September 16–20. Enjoy fall colors among glacier-fed turquoise lakes on this four-day women’s trek. We will backpack this east-side Sierra canyon and camp beneath peaks including Temple Crag and the Palisades, with plenty of time to swim, relax, and climb to the Palisade Glacier on our layover day. This trip is suited for well-conditioned beginners and intermediate backpackers. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Pam Abell. Price: $745. [22125A]

Kelley Cousin has spent over 10 years as a backcountry service trip cook, but her relationship with Sierra Club Outings began with a very different kind of experience to Ecuador’s Galápagos Islands back in 2005. Her mother had always wanted to visit the islands, and Kelley knew that if she didn’t take her to see the blue-footed boobies, tortoises, and other extraordinary wildlife, her mother would never go. Afterward, Kelly thought, “Wow, maybe I should check out other Sierra Club trips.” Her interest deepened two years later on a “life-changing adventure” to Alaska’s Kenai Peninsula to help construct a solar-powered composting outhouse at the Holgate Glacier. Upon completing the project, the group spent three days camping in torrential rain until the Forest Service offered them a hut for the rest of their stay. Out of that experience came lifelong friendships, she says, adding that “something happens when sharing hardship.”

The deal was sealed shortly thereafter on a backcountry service trip to Glacier National Park, Montana, when she was asked to become a leader. Though Kelley was honored, she was unsure what role she wanted to play. Having spent 25 years as a physician, she knew that talking on the phone, filling out paperwork, and other leader responsibilities didn’t appeal to her. As a service trip participant, she always looked forward to a rewarding meal after a day of strenuous work, which led her to consider becoming a cook. Despite having no formal training, she was attracted to the challenge of feeding multiple people, some of whom have special dietary needs. While planning a menu, she often ask herself, “How will I feed this gluten-free person, or this vegan, or a gluten-free vegan?” Or, “How will I work around multiple food allergies, likes, and dislikes?”

Kelley has staffed a few front-country trips, but she prefers to cook in the backcountry, which requires careful planning because food and equipment must be backpacked in, often with the support of a packer. “It’s a challenge to get there with everything you need and to keep food safe and meals rolling in spite of weather, critters, and a lack of refrigeration.” Experimentation is a big part of the fun, whether it’s figuring out how to adapt a dish to work in the backcountry or integrating local foods into a menu, like lentils from her adopted home of Montana. “Who knew that Montana is one of the largest growers of lentils,” she asks, “and how that came about is a story of sustainable farming practices?” Moreover, she believes that participants form tighter bonds without the distractions of civilization. “Many times our trip is that person’s first experience backpacking or being disconnected from electronics.”

Kelley’s strengths as a trip staffer aren’t limited to cooking, says trip leader Alison Campbell. “She provides all kinds of nurturing to people, both experienced and who have never been on a trip, just by her attitude and thinking of the little comfort things that make a trip special.” The unpredictable nature of backcountry travel, Kelly notes, requires trip staff to be prepared to manage all kinds of unexpected events and situations. “No trip will go without incident,” she says, “and if it does, that’s a miracle!” This flexible approach and can-do attitude have also helped her grow and develop new leadership skills. “I used to be pretty reserved when meeting new folks,” she says, adding that now it’s her favorite part of the experience. Each trip is an opportunity to meet new people; to learn about their background, hardships, and reasons for being there; and to work with another leader to make the trip more successful and memorable. “Success means not only doing a good work project but making sure all the participants are comfortable—and, of course, well fed! ‘Memorable’ to me means having fun, completing a work project, forming lasting friendships, and appreciating the environment we are privileged to spend a week in.”

This recipe has led to plenty of unforgettable and sometimes downright strange experiences, such as a windstorm in Saline Valley, California, that raged all night and destroyed her kitchen; being so exhausted after trail work in Glacier National Park that she didn’t think she would be able to walk back to camp; viewing Ancestral Puebloan artifacts and exploring remote cliff dwellings in Grand Gulch Primitive Area, Utah; and so much more. One of her fondest memories occurred last summer on a trip in California’s Sierra Nevada. “We had a talent show, and a participant who had never sung in front of a group before sang a beautiful ballad that brought tears to my eyes. We also had a group sing that was loads of fun!”

You can join Kelley for a taste of her rewarding backcountry cooking and a chance to make new memories on “Preserving the Lost Coast, California” (see p. 29).
Lake Hopping in the Sawtooth Wilderness, Idaho. July 29–August 6. Hike through glaciated valleys and beneath jagged granite spires to the spectacular lakes of the Sawtooth Wilderness. These peaks and lakes will be our companions on this eight-day, 40-plus-mile backpack journey, which will include a layover day to explore high meadows and hidden lakes, fish for trout, or just relax and take it all in. (Rated: 3.) Leader: Steve Mintz. Price: $1,325. [22135A]

Alpine Glory in Wyoming’s Wind River Mountains. August 6–14. Wyoming’s majestic Wind River Range, beneath the Continental Divide, forms the backdrop for this unsurpassed hike. Pristine valleys are filled with abundant wildflower meadows, and carpets of blueberry and raspberry plants decorate our trail. We’ll enjoy a myriad of streams and glacial lakes with spectacular panoramic views of snowcapped, jagged peaks in this remote and dramatic area of the Rockies. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Mike Bolar. Price: $1,255. [22136A]

Wildflowers and Wandering in the Wind River Range, Wyoming. August 6–14. Wyoming’s Wind River Range is famous for its rocky mountains, vast glaciers, and flower-filled basins. Our trip, timed for what is traditionally peak wildflower season, will take us on a loop through Indian Basin, over high passes, and alongside myriad alpine lakes with stellar views. We’ll explore Titcomb Basin and the Angel Peak area on our two layover days. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Marybeth Dingledy. Price: $1,165. [22137A]

Lake Hopping in the Wind River Range, Wyoming. August 15–19. Hike from one beautiful lake to the next in the magnificent Wind River Range, a landscape dominated by granite peaks—many over 13,000 feet—and more than 1,000 lakes. We will wander through high meadows, camp beside beautiful alpine lakes, and enjoy wonderful views. The rugged and spectacular scenery will leave you in awe. For a more complete Wind River Range experience, pair this trip with “Lake Hopping in the Wind River Range, Wyoming” (see trip 22138A, left, for details). (Rated: 4.) Leader: Marybeth Dingledy. High, Wild, and Remote: Backpacking in the Wind River Range, Wyoming. August 19–27. Join other adventurous hikers on this loop through the northern Bridger Wilderness. From New Forks Lake, our route will climb from meadowed canyon floors up through timberline to rocky passes with grand panoramas of lofty granite peaks capped by the rugged Continental Divide. We’ll camp near crystal clear streams and alpine lakes where the evening’s alpenglow will replenish our soul. (Rated: 4.) Leader: Stephanie Wilson. Price: $1,045. [22139A]

BEGINNER TRIP! Alpine Beginners Backpack, Rawah Wilderness, Colorado. September 11–17. Learn the ropes of backpacking in the majestic and accessible Rawah Wilderness, a Colorado favorite. Our trek through lush forests and across alpine tundra untouched
If there's one thing that sets Sierra Club Outings apart from other travel operators, it's that our trips serve a higher purpose: to establish lifelong connections between people and the wild places that should be protected. It's a powerful idea that has galvanized generations of conservation-minded travelers for over 100 years. Yet few people understand the connective tissue between these trips and the Sierra Club's organizing strategy like Chris Hill, who is both a volunteer trip leader and the senior campaign director for the Our Wild America campaign. From a young age, Chris learned to find joy and healing outside, where she established a lifelong passion for backpacking, climbing, snowboarding, and fly-fishing. “Being outdoors,” she says, “is the closest feeling to home for me.”

This love of the outdoors dovetailed with Chris’s professional career in 2011, when she became an organizer with the Sierra Club Maryland chapter and organized a trip by kayak to a polluting coal plant that needed to be retired. This trip, which was directly connected to the advocacy campaign, began the journey for many Sierra Club members to fight the plant to retirement. “It was really eye-opening to see the connections people made when they could see firsthand the pollution the coal plant was causing and the dire need for clean air, clean water, and healthy neighborhoods.” She later moved on to the Sierra Club’s federal office in Washington, D.C., and then to the Our Wild America campaign, where she now leads efforts to create and protect more nature for future generations to combat the climate crisis, and reduce the nature equity gap to connect all people to the outdoors. After eight years at the organization, Chris says one thing has remained the same:

“the understanding and importance that Sierra Club Outings have to our advocacy and organizing efforts.”

As part of the Our Wild America campaign, Chris works closely with the Sierra Club’s Outdoors For All team, which envisions a “just, equitable, and sustainable future in which all people benefit from clean air, clean water, and equitable access to the outdoors.” As a black woman, an avid outdoors person, and an environmental advocate, Chris feels a particular resonance with the nexus between conservation and outdoor equity. Not only did she rarely see anyone who looked like her in outdoor spaces while growing up, but fewer than half of all people in the United States live within walking distance of a park, she says, highlighting the great disparities in access to the outdoors, especially for low-income neighborhoods and communities of color as a result of discriminatory policies on the control and use of land and public transportation. “Understanding the multitude of barriers that exist for BIPOC communities in getting outdoors and improving access is so important,” she explains, adding that “ensuring equitable access to the outdoors would have wide-ranging health, economic, and societal benefits.”

Chris’s extensive relationship with the outdoors and advocacy took a new turn in 2018, when she completed her training to become a volunteer leader with Sierra Club Outings. Of her many experiences, all within Alaska, two stand out as all-time favorites. She describes her visit to Cape Krusenstern in northwestern Alaska, on the coast of the Chukchi Sea, as a relaxed trip “filled with joy wandering the hills at leisure, learning about the history of the area, observing the vast flora and fauna, and searching for musk ox on far-off ridges.” Every so often, the group would sit down to take a break while the trip leader painted a watercolor of the landscape or a flower and shared intriguing facts about the area. The other trip, a raft journey on the Tatshenshini River, holds a special place in Chris’s heart as it introduced her to Haines, Alaska, where she now lives, and it’s also where she met her husband, Greg. Though the trip was riddled with storms and sideways rain, there were also incredible days filled with sun as the river meandered through massive mountains and past glaciers and lakes filled with icebergs. “I remember at dinnertime the guides would tell us about the First Nations land we were on and the stories of the campaign to stop a massive copper mine and road through the heart of the area. Being disconnected for so long on ‘river time’ was so rejuvenating and healing.”

In 2019, Chris partnered with the Outbound Collective to tell her story in a short film, Where I Belong, which appeared at numerous film festivals and won Best Short Film at the Conservation Film Festival in 2021. She is currently taking a break from planning trips with Sierra Club Outings, but she’s eager to get back to it soon, and she continues to be active at the intersection of the outdoors and advocacy. She recently embarked on a nearly two-week trip packrafting and backpacking in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. “It was an amazing trip connecting my friends to an important place and being able to provide them with the tools to create change when they get home.”

Keep an eye on sc.org/outings for a chance to explore Alaska with Chris soon. And in the meantime, you can watch her short film at outsideonline.com/video/chris-hill-lobbyist-alaska.
Ancient Trails off the South Rim, Grand Canyon National Park, Arizona. March 25–31. The South Rim of the Grand Canyon, from Red Canyon to the Little Colorado River, offers dramatic views and unique geological formations. Our journey will traverse exposed and rugged trails, including Tanner, New Hance, Beamer, and the Escalante Route, used by travelers thousands of years ago. Remnants of their passage can be found if we look closely. We will camp near the river on most nights of this journey. (Rated: 4.) Leader: John Plander. Price: $995. [22031A]

Mystery of the Rainbow, Navajo Nation, Arizona and Utah. April 2–9. Trek cross-country through a canyon so mysterious, its name isn’t found on modern maps. With natural battlements impassable to ordinary hikers ensuring our solitude, we’ll visit beautiful slots, pools, pour-offs, a cave, ruins, and rock art and see miles of slickrock sandstone. Looking for Other Ways to Connect to the Outdoors?

Sierra Club chapters and groups offer a wide range of outdoor activities and opportunities to get involved in national, regional, and local advocacy actions. All Sierra Club Outings are guided by the Outdoors for All Theory of Change vision for a just, equitable, and sustainable future where all people benefit from a healthy, thriving planet and a direct connection to nature.

Inspiring Connections Outdoors
Each year, Inspiring Connections Outdoors (ICO) volunteers provide safe, inspiring, and fun outdoor adventures with over 14,000 participants—mostly youth from communities of color and low-income groups. Volunteer leaders work with partner organizations to engage their communities on hiking, camping, backpacking, paddling, snow, and service trips in areas near and far from their homes. ICO strives to highlight the known benefits of engaging people in the outdoors, such as increasing feelings of social connection, curiosity, self-efficacy, and life purpose. It also aims to create the next generation of environmental and social justice leaders, increase exposure to outdoor recreation, support grassroots community leadership, and build a broad platform for all people to access the outdoors. ICO is funded entirely by grants and your generous donations. To learn more, volunteer, or donate, visit sc.org/ico.

Local Outings
The Sierra Club offers over 15,000 local and mostly free trips each year led by dedicated Sierra Club volunteers who reflect the communities where they live and play outside. Participants are welcome regardless of background and experience. We offer outdoor activities that connect folks to nature and each other in a multiplicity of ways: day hikes, peak scrambles, bicycling, cross-country skiing, birdwatching, conservation-oriented walks, and forays into the natural areas of our major cities. Find trips near you at sc.org/localoutdoors.

Military Outdoors
The Sierra Club Military Outdoors campaign (SCMO) is working to improve the lives of veterans and their families through connections with the outdoors, and by inspiring members of the military and veteran community to become outspoken champions for environmental conservation and justice. Learn more at sc.org/military.

Outdoors for All
Outdoors for All is a priority campaign of Sierra Club’s Our Wild America. The goal of the campaign is to expand equitable and public access to the outdoors for all, especially those who lack nearby nature and are underrepresented in the outdoors. The campaign is working to close the nature equity gap by ensuring an additional 50 million people can exercise their human right to connect with the outdoors. Outdoors for All advocates for and works with partners to establish and activate local parks and green spaces, establish transit to trails routes, remove and replace racist and derogatory monuments and symbols on public lands, reduce entry fees and other costs associated with accessing public lands, and support programs, such as Sierra Club Outings, to directly serve communities with welcoming and inclusive outdoor experiences. For more, visit sierraclub.org/outdoors-for-all.

Experience ancient and modern China on a unique itinerary that will include climbing the Great Wall, visiting the Terracotta Warriors, hiking in national forests and nature preserves, and exploring the sacred, mystical Mt. Huangshan. We will spend five days immersed in the otherworldly landscapes that have inspired Chinese artists for thousands of years yet are completely off the beaten path for Western tourists. The trip will end in Shanghai, known as “Paris of the East.” For a more complete experience, pair this trip with “China’s Giant Pandas and Mt. Qingcheng, Birthplace of Taoism” (see trip 22595A, p. 34, for details). Leader: Kathie Fowler. Price: $4,425. [22600A]

Upper Dolpo Trek, Nepal. May 7–June 12. At the southern edge of the Tibetan Plateau lies wild and open Dolpo, the most remote and sparsely populated region in Nepal. This is an extraordinary 31-day trek. After crossing the Toudje La (18,250 feet) beyond Dhaulagiri, we will descend into a world of snow leopards, yak caravans, blue sheep, and medieval villages and their monasteries, including Yangser, Samling, Shey (Crystal Mountain), and Ringmo, on the shores of unearthly Phoksundo Lake. Leader: Cheryl Parks. Price: $7,475. [22705A]

Temples, Mountains, and Reefs of Bali, Indonesia. May 18–30. Join us in the lush tropical paradise of Bali, the “Island of the Gods,” renowned for its warm hospitality, terraced rice fields, and Hindu temples and palaces set against stunning natural backdrops. During our stay, we’ll visit temples, dine at a royal palace, raft, hike mountainous terrain, and scuba dive or snorkel among incredible reefs and abundant sea life. We’ll stay in comfortable Balinese-style accommodations utilizing nature in their design and enjoy traditional meals and massages. Leader: Margie Tomenko. Price: $4,795. [22825A]

Hiking Japan’s Ancient Kumano Kodo Pilgrimage Trail. May 20–28. The Kumano Kodo pilgrimage tour is a fully guided walking tour between the vibrant, modern city of Osaka; the mountain temple community of Mt. Koyasan; and the Japanese imperial shrine at Ise. One of only two World Heritage pilgrimage routes in the world, the Kumano Kodo is a journey through a thousand years of Buddhist history on Japan’s beautiful Kii Peninsula, which connects these iconic sites. Leader: Todd Duncan. Price: $5,695 (8–10)/$5,995 (7 or fewer). [22605A]

Treks in Mongolia’s Altai Mountains. July 8–23. This exclusive itinerary is a true testament to Mongolia’s diverse cultural and natural heritage. Our journey will begin in the capital, Ulaanbaatar, where we will explore Mongolia’s age-old Naadam festival. It is an occasion to see Mongolians in their best costumes gather for large feasts and family reunions. The journey then continues to the western Altai Mountains, where some uncharted lands await trekking and offer opportunities for meeting some of Mongolia’s most remotely located ethnic groups. Here, we will meet Kazakh eagle hunters for close encounters and Urianhak archer families who share their ancient traditions upheld from the times of Chinggis Khan. Leader: Rudy Scheffer. Price: $5,975 (13–16)/$6,295 (12 or fewer). [22745A]

Borneo Explorer, Malaysia. July 16–28. Borneo, one of the world’s last wild places, contains jungle valleys, mountain peaks, and wide rivers teeming with wildlife. On this trip, we will take advantage of comfortable lodges located in primary and secondary forests in order to see species such as orangutans, gibbon, proboscis monkeys, and the illustrious hornbill. We will hike, explore canopy walkways, and search for the infamous Rafflesia on this active adventure. Leader: Kath Giel. Price: $5,945. [22750A]

Ancient China: Mountains, Monkeys, Hutongs, and Pandas Too. October 9–22. Join us in experiencing both ancient and modern China in an exciting new itinerary that includes exploring an ancient Hutong neighborhood, interacting with giant pandas, hiking on two sacred mountains, walking along the Great Wall at night, and cruising down the Li River (described by National Geographic as one of the top 10 wetery wonders in the world). Leader: Ruth Dyche. Price: $5,595 (12–15)/$5,995 (11 or fewer). [22815A]

Beyond Manaslu: A Himalayan Journey, Nepal. October 10–30. Trek beyond Manaslu (26,781 feet), the world’s eighth-highest mountain, located in one of Nepal’s less toured regions. Closed to trekkers until 1991, much of our path will follow an ancient salt-trading route, crossing the high pass of Larkya La at 16,752 feet. With experienced guides showing us the way and porters carrying all but our day packs, we’ll enjoy unsurpassed views of towering peaks and spend evenings in simple trekking lodges along the way. Leader: Steven Veit. Price: $4,135. [22820A]

Hike, Bike, and Kayak in Vietnam. October 15–29. Experience the magic of Vietnam on our multisport adventure in this diverse land. Our journey will begin in the bustling Hanoi Old Quarter and end with two nights on a beautiful yacht in Ha Long Bay, where we’ll kayak to secluded caves and floating fish farms. Along the way, we’ll hike and bike to waterfalls, caves, rice paddies, and remote villages. We’ll also dine on local delicacies, experience a fish pedicure, and learn about the endangered langur. Leader: Francy Rubin. Price: $3,325. [22880A]

Land of the Thunder Dragon: Bhutan. October 17–31. Travel to a land rarely visited by Westerners, with one of the most intact ecological systems on Earth. Bhutan’s Himalayan terrain and Buddhist culture make it a fascinating place to visit, and our combination of day hikes and trips to cultural and artistic sites will open up many wonders to us. Tiger’s Lair, Divine Madman, Bumthang—the names alone conjure up the sublime. Travel will be by comfortable charter bus, and lodging will be in cozy hotels. Leader: Patrick Tierney. Price: $4,845. [22865A]

Jewels of Northern Vietnam and Cambodia. December 3–16. Join us on an extraordinary journey in northern Vietnam and Cambodia featuring two World Heritage sites, ancient temples and pagodas, water-puppet shows, and exquisite cuisine. In Vietnam, we’ll hike in two national parks; spend two days on a yacht while exploring, swimming, and kayaking Ha Long Bay; and stay overnight in a traditional village and experience local culture through music and dance. In Cambodia, we will tour the temples of Angkor Wat, bicycle through villages, and visit a floating community. All physical activities are optional. Leader: Rudy Scheffer. Price: $3,075. [22860A]

Costa Rica’s Tropical Trails. December 26, 2021–January 4, 2022. Join us for an exceptional adventure in Costa Rica, a haven of biodiversity, stunning vistas, lush forests, and wildlife. We’ll walk and float in lowland forests, soak in volcano-heated hot springs, swim below a waterfall, picnic along a gorgeous beach, learn about conservation projects, and hike a world-famous cloud forest reserve. Along the way, we’ll observe howler monkeys, keel-billed toucans, and scarlet macaws. Accommodations will be in simple but comfortable eco-lodges and locally owned hotels. Leader: Cy Englert. Price: $3,545 (10–15)/$4,095 (9 or fewer). [22510A]

Up Close in Undiscovered Costa Rica. January 15–25. Sample Costa Rica’s least toured treasures in the Osa Peninsula’s Corcovado National Park, Marino Ballena National Park, and Savegre. We’ll view wildlife with a naturalist guide on early-morning bird walks, hike through cloud forests and rainforests, and engage in a variety of outdoor activities, including kayaking, whale-watching, and river boating. Our unique lodgings will include a mountain retreat, a hand-built and fully sustainable lodge, and an eco-lodge overlooking the Pacific coast. Leader: Pati Rouzer. Price: $3,675. [22522A]

Belize: Birding the Ruins. February 5–13. This trip will focus on birding around the ancient Mayan ruins. Our eco-lodges are located adjacent to ruins, and our local birding/archaeological guides are of Mayan descent with an intimate knowledge of Mayan culture and how it still lives within Belizeans’ way of life. Lamanai, Xunantunich, and Caracol are target sites with a delight of tropical birds at every stop. Leader: Pati Rouzer. Price: $4,295. [22540A]

Hiking the Natural Beauty of Southern Costa Rica and Northern Panama. February 7–19. Explore the trails less traveled in two ecologically friendly countries. We’ll hike through cloud forests and rainforests and over mountainous volcanic terrain to stunning vistas and cascading waterfalls. Accompanied by a naturalist guide, we’ll look for abundant wildlife and colorful wildflowers in national parks, conservation areas, and private reserves. We’ll hike up Panama’s tallest mountain for views of the Pacific Ocean and the Caribbean Sea and visit the Osa Peninsula, which National Geographic calls “the most biologically intense place on Earth.” Leader: Kevin Breen. Price: $3,675. [22535A]

One-Week Active Marine Adventure in Bocas del Toro Archipelago, Panama. April 16–23. Join us on an eight-day, action-packed adventure in an infrequently visited group of tropical islands in the Caribbean Sea. Our base for the week is a secluded eco-lodge set in a lush and pristine national marine park. We’ll embark on daily kayak, snorkel, beach, and jungle excursions, and in the evenings, we’ll enjoy sunsets and birding from our observation tower high above the canopy. We’ll also visit the Smithsonian research facility to learn about climate change and human impact on Caribbean ecosystems. Leader: Carol Marty. Price: $3,545. [22558B]

Costa Rica: Reforestation, Turtle Conservation, and Community Support. July 18–28. Join us on a unique and rewarding vacation contributing to service projects and sustainable tourism in this lush tropical paradise. We will plant trees near the cloud forest; work alongside locals on a community project in Sarapiquí, and assist a turtle protection project in Tortuguero National Park. Accompanied by a local naturalist guide, we’ll visit lowland tropical forests, hike through national parks and reserves, and soak in delightful hot springs. Lodging will be at locally owned hotels and lodges. Leader: Cy Englert. Price: $4,175 (11–14)/$4,575 (10 or fewer). [22765A]

Hummingbirds to Harpies: Birding Panama’s Darién Forest. December 11–19. From bejeweled hummingbirds to majestic eagles and hundreds of tropical birds in between (nearly 1,000 to date), Panama’s remote tropical forest is a birder’s paradise. On our journey, we’ll explore two of the richest, most biodiverse areas in Central America: the Canal Zone and the Darién Forest. Panama’s abundant flora will delight us as we search for sloths, bats, butterflies, slinky reptiles, and who knows what else. Nights will be spent enjoying delicious Panamanian meals and good company in comfortable eco-lodges. Leader: Pati Rouzer. Price: $3,795. [22870A]

Hiking the Alps of Bavaria and Tyrol, Germany and Austria. June 28–July 9. Exploring the mountain paths, lakes, forests, and wildflower meadows of the Berchtesgaden and Ammergau Alps in Bavaria and the Karwendel range of Austria’s Tyrolean Alps. We’ll hike to lovely baroque country churches and the fantasy castles of King Ludwig II, cruise the fjord-like Lake Königssee, tour Salzburg and Munich, enjoy a Mozart dinner concert, and sample the delicious local cuisine. In the evenings, we’ll return to small, family-run hotels with unbeatable alpine views. Leader: Erhard Konerdinger. Price: $3,825. [22690A]

Cave Paintings, Paddling, and History in Dordogne, France. June 30–July 10. The Dordogne region in southwestern France is world-renowned for its beautiful countryside dotted with picturesque villages and castles. From our riverside hotels in medieval villages, we will tour prehistoric caves and marvel at their mysterious and skilful paintings. We will also paddle down the gentle Dordogne and Vézère Rivers, stopping to explore 12th-century castles and enjoy wines, cheeses, and other delicacies. Leader: Wendy Van Norden. Price: $3,625. [22695A]

From Spain to France: Trekking the Pyrenean Haute Route. July 3–12. Trek one of the world’s great mountain ranges on both sides of the Franco-Spanish border. We will walk through some of the largest and deepest canyons in Europe on the Spanish side and the three famous glacial cirques on the French side. Our route will include an integral part of Pyrenees–Mont Perdu, a UNESCO World Heritage site consisting of villages, farms, fields, upland pastures, and mountain roads, and a summit of 11,000-foot Mont Perdu. Leader: Mike Abbott. Price: $2,845 (10–12)/$3,485 (9 or fewer). [22900A]

Day Hikes in the Dolomites: Treasures of South Tyrol, Italy. July 8–14. The Dolomites are among the most dramatic mountains on Earth. Though not as big as the nearby Alps, they are even more striking in their color and the way their pale, craggy peaks rise abruptly from the surrounding meadows. This comfortable, hotel-based trip will feature daily hikes on easy-to-moderate trails through these stunning mountains. Leader: Steve Welter. Price: $2,525. [22732A]

Advanced Trekking and Via Ferrata in the Dolomites, Italy. July 17–25. Combine trekking and via ferrata (a protected climbing route using steel cables) on this exceptional journey in Italy’s legendary Dolomites. Under the guidance of certified local mountain guides, we will navigate the world-famous Via delle Bocchette and spend five days trekking, with walks up two dramatic peaks. Each night will be spent in a well-appointed mountain refugio or our base hotel. No climbing experience is necessary to enjoy this rare adventure. Leader: Mike Abbott. Price: $3,325. [22875A]

Volcanic Vacation: Hut-to-Hut Trekking in Iceland. July 18–29. Trek an otherworldly volcanic landscape where few have gone before. Our route will take us from Landmannahellir through the Reykjadalur geothermal valley to Landmannalaugar, then up into the highlands and down to the southern coast. We’ll encounter a wide range of landscapes, including multicolored volcanic mountains, black-sand deserts, glaciers, volcanic rips, and craters, with the chance to discover new lava fields and craters from the 2010 eruption of the Eyjafjallajökull volcano. Leader: Daniel Pettit. Price: $5,095. [22740A]

Dolomiti di Brenta: Hut to Hut in the Trentino Alps, Italy. July 22–30. West of Italy’s Brenner valley lie the Brenta Dolomites, the most dramatic and rugged area of the Dolomite range.
Our hut-to-hut adventure will bring us through the heart of their towering spires, which at subset take on the spectacular colors of fire.
We may spot chamois, eagles, grouse, and even bears, and we’ll spend most evenings at mountain huts enjoying the local atmosphere, tasty food, and the company of travelers from around the world. Leader: Becky Wong. Price:
$2,825. [22735A]

Exploring Norway’s Fjords and Glaciers. August 4–14. See trip 22755A, left, for details. Leader:
Steve Welter. Price: $3,975. [22760A]

In Search of Pack Ice, Polar Bears, and Whales in the Experience unparalleled scenery and wildlife viewing on a cruise through Norway’s Svalbard archipelago. From our comfortable and spacious vessel, we’ll view enormous colonies of seabirds, seals, and walrus hauled out on ice floes; observe the thrilling antics of whales; and search for the Arctic’s iconic polar bears. Onboard scientists and naturalists will discuss natural history and environmental impacts, and we’ll enjoy a variety of optional activities, including Zodiac side trips, snowshoeing, and hiking. Leader: Kath Giel. Price:
$6,545. [22730A]

Hike Ireland’s Natural and Ancient Wonders:
Wicklow Mountains to the Aran Islands. August 21–September 1. Discover the natural wonders, history, and culture of Ireland on an incomparable hiking adventure, from Tara Hill near Dublin to the rugged western shores of the Atlantic. We’ll visit ancient and medieval sites dotting the countryside near Galway and on the Aran Islands and take inspiring hikes along the breathtaking coastline, through scenic valleys, and among dramatic mountains. Lodging will be in comfortable bed-and-breakfasts and small country inns. Leader: Barry Morenz. Price:
$4,145. [22770A]

Exploring the French and Italian Alps: Mont Blanc Join us on a hiking journey to two of the most classic destinations in the Alps. Beginning in France, we will explore the awe-inspiring Mont Blanc massif from the charming town of Chamonix. Later, as we cross the Alps from France to Italy, we’ll tour Gran Paradiso National Park and visit the quaint Val d’Ayas. Our itinerary will also include plentiful opportunities to experience local culture and cuisine. Leader: Shlomo Waser.
Price: $4,945. [22800A]

Walking the Witches Trail from Inn to Inn, Harz Mountains, Germany. September 2–13. In the heart of Germany lie the Harz Mountains, a region rich in folklore and diverse geologic features. We’ll enjoy easy-to-moderate hikes along the Witches Trail as it winds through valleys, moors, and meadows, with stops at UNESCO sites and in medieval towns. We’ll also walk in the footsteps of Goethe; explore the fabled Brocken, believed to be a traditional meeting place of witches; and ride a narrow-gauge railway through deep ravines. Our journey will conclude in the historic city of Leipzig. Leader:
Erhard Konerding. Price: $3,325. [22775A]

Hut to Hut in the Picos de Europa, Northern Spain.
September 4–15. The dramatic Picos de Europa are the perfect landscape for our hut-to-hut hiking journey. Along our route, we’ll visit the three iconic massifs, explore deep gorges and high peaks, and discover abundant natural and cultural history. We’ll also observe the unique coexistence of wildlife, traditional farming, and protected areas that are open to the public. In the evenings, we’ll enjoy spectacular sunsets and mingle with other international travelers in small inns and high mountain huts. Leader:
Nancy Mathison. Price: $3,845 (11–14)/$4,145
(10 or fewer). [22795A]

Hiking the Peaks and Valleys of the Dolomites, Italy. September 5–16. The surreal pale peaks of the Dolomites rise dramatically from rolling green valleys dotted with small villages. We will travel to a different trailhead each day and hike through scenic mountain settings, spending our nights in picturesque villages.
Lodging will be in small, family-run hotels (and, one night, a mountain refuge), where we will sample local cuisine and wines and experience the Italian, Tyrolean, and Ladin cultures. We’ll also visit Ötzi the "Ice Man" and a World War I outdoor museum. Leader: Daniel Pettit. Price:
$3,575. [22785A]

England’s Coast-to-Coast Walk: From the Irish Sea to the North Sea. September 5–18. See trip 22715A, p. 38, for details. Leader: Becky Wong.
Price: $4,315. [22790A]
MIDDLE EAST

Natural and Historical Highlights of Israel. March 15–28. Discover unique history and incredible biodiversity on a comprehensive journey through this enduring land. Traveling from the verdant north, where the Jordan River starts, to the southern desert, we’ll visit history-rich cities, like Jerusalem and Jaffa (the oldest port town in the world), as well as the famous Dead and Red Seas. Our travels will also include hikes in nature reserves, sea snorkeling, birdwatching, and evenings in hotels and on a kibbutz. Leader: Shlomo Waser. Price: $4,825.

Wings over Israel: Spring Migration, Nature, and Culture. March 29–April 10. Witness the spectacular spring bird migration in one of the world’s birding hotspots. Some 500 million birds from 283 species migrate through Israel each year, heading north from Africa to Europe and Asia. We’ll visit Israel’s most important birding areas, including the Mediterranean coast, the Dead and Red Seas, and the Judean and Negev Deserts. We’ll also explore rich human history in Masada and some of Jerusalem’s major sites, and stay in comfortable local hotels and kibbutz inns. Beginner birders welcome. Leader: Rochelle Gerratt. Price: $5,895.

AFRICA

Botswana and Zimbabwe: A Living Eden. June 4–16. Botswana still feels like the Africa of old: vast savannas with free-ranging herds of graceful antelope, all the big cats, giraffes, hyenas, 500 species of spectacular birds, and more. With plenty of time to observe and photograph, we will move with our comfortable mobile camp from the premier game territories of the Okavango Delta to arid Savuti to the Chobe National Park waterfront, with its large elephant herds. In Zimbabwe, we’ll hike at world-famous Victoria Falls. Leader: Marti Greason. Price: $9,745.

Tanzania Safari and Zanzibar Wildlife. June 17–27. Witness the incredible abundance of wildlife in Tanzania’s Serengeti National Park and Ngorongoro Crater on this classic safari. Accompanied by local guides, we’ll see lions, elephants, giraffes, cheetahs, leopards, zebras, rhinoceroses, monkeys, flamingos, and hundreds of other species. We’ll also view Mt. Kilimanjaro, visit a Maasai village and Olduvai Gorge, and enjoy fresh meals in our private luxury camp and lodges. Our adventure will end on Zanzibar, where we’ll visit a spice farm, stroll along beaches, and snorkel in the warm Indian Ocean. Leader: Patrick Tierney. Price: $7,695.

Magical Morocco: From Casbahs to Camels. September 21–October 5. Explore Morocco as we visit the imperial cities of Casablanca, Rabat, and Meknes and the medieval cities of Fez and Marrakech, with their bustling souks. We’ll roam into deep mountain gorges, explore Berber villages, and trek in the Atlas Mountains. We’ll also journey by camel to a tented camp deep in the pink sands of the Sahara. Accommodations will include hotels, lodges, and a luxury desert tent. Leader: Carol Marty. Price: $4,575.

Gorillas, Chimpanzees, and More in Uganda and Rwanda. November 22–December 7. With only 900 mountain gorillas left in the wild, the privilege of observing them at close range is a rare and humbling experience. We’ll spend four days on challenging hikes to view these gorillas as well as playful chimpanzees, and we’ll visit national parks for lion tracking, boat safaris, jungle walks, and game drives. We’ll observe up to 13 species of primates and 1,000 species of birds as well as hippos, elephants, Cape buffalo, and Uganda kob; explore the friendly local culture; and stay in comfortable, scenic lodges. Leader: Barry Morenz. Price: $9,695.
Terms & Conditions

Our complete terms and conditions are available at content.sierraclub.org/outings/terms-conditions

Eligibility
Our trips are open to all Sierra Club members. Membership is required for all trip participants 18 years or older. If you’re not currently a member, you may include your membership application and dues with your reservation request. If you’re using a credit card to make a reservation and you’re not a member, you will be required to join at that time. Typically, a person under 18 years of age may join a trip only if accompanied by a parent or designated guardian and with the consent of the trip leader.

How to Register for a Trip
We accept reservations on a first-come, first-served basis.

- Phone: You can register by using a Visa or MasterCard and calling 415-977-5522. Please have the trip number, your credit card information, and your membership number handy.
- Online: You can register on the Web by using our secure and easy online reservation form at sierraclub.org/outings
- U.S. Mail: Send your completed reservation form to the address listed on the bottom of the reservation form (see opposite page).
- Fax: You can fax your completed reservation form to 415.977.5795. You must include your credit card information on the fax.

Deposit
Every trip requires a deposit for each individual on the trip (including children). The amount of the deposit varies with the trip price:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Deposit Amount</th>
<th>Trip Price Range</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$50</td>
<td>under $500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$100</td>
<td>$500–$999</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$200</td>
<td>$1,000 and above</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All deposits and payments are in U.S. dollars. If you make your reservation less than 90 days before the trip starts, the full trip fee is due when you register. If you cancel from a trip, we may charge you a cancellation fee. Please read the cancellation chart shown at right.

Payments
If you pay your deposit by check or money order, you need to send final payment by the dates indicated in your confirmation packet.

International trips require an additional interim payment of $300 per person six months before the trip start date. The billing methods are the same as above.

Full payment is due 90 days prior to the trip start date. If you pay your deposit by credit card, we’ll automatically charge that credit card for the final payment 90 days before the trip starts.

Confirmation
When a space is available on a trip and you pay your trip deposit, we reserve a spot and mail or email (depending on which option is selected) confirmation materials to the primary trip party participant. You have a 14-day grace period from your sign-up date to cancel or transfer your reservation free of charge. If the trip leaves within 30 days of your sign-up date, there is no grace period.

Waitlist
If there isn’t space available when you register, we place you on a waitlist, and your deposit holds your space there. As long as you remain on the waitlist, your deposit is fully refundable at any time.

Acceptance Process
All trip reservations are subject to acceptance by the trip leader. Further details about this process are included in your confirmation packet or email.

Please note: All payments are due at the times indicated, regardless of whether or not you’ve been accepted by the trip leader.

International Trip Tier-Pricing
Some international trips are tier-priced. This means that a trip’s price is dependent upon the number of participants. Final billing is based on the sign-up level at 90 days prior to the trip start date. If, between final billing and trip start dates, the sign-up level goes up sufficiently to qualify for the low-tier price, we will apply the lower price and will process refunds on the trip start date for any differences in amounts paid. Once we lower a trip price, we will not increase it, even if sign-up levels drop.

Transportation
Our trip prices do not include travel to and from a trip’s starting point; this is your responsibility.

Cancellations And Refunds
You must notify us directly if you need to cancel from a trip. Contact Sierra Club Outings weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., PST, at 415-977-5522. The amount of your refund is determined by the date that you notify Sierra Club Outings of your cancellation. Trip leaders have no authority to grant or promise refunds.

Trips Canceled Or Changed By Sierra Club Outings
On rare occasions, we must cancel or change trips. If this occurs, our responsibility is limited to a refund of any trip fees you’ve already paid. Sierra Club Outings is not responsible for airline tickets, other tickets or payments, or any similar fee penalties that you may incur as a result of any trip cancellations or changes.

Travel Insurance
We strongly encourage you to purchase travel insurance to cover cancellation fees associated with a trip as well as airfare or other nonrefundable expenses in the event you need to cancel; medical expenses incurred on a trip; and the cost of a possible medical evacuation from a trip. Your confirmation packet or email contains information on travel insurance. We cannot advise on the policies and coverage; please contact the company directly.
